

TransPergMikro: Workshop Archaeological Survey

- Date: 22.-23.03.2019
- Location: Informal and closed workshop at the German Archaeological Institute in Istanbul
- Participants: Güler Ateş, Philip Bes, Daniel Knitter, Elif Koparal, Bernhard Ludwig, Ulrich Mania, Felix Pirson, Jeroen Poblome, Anja Slawisch, Néhémie Strupler, Arne Weiser, Toby Wilkinson, Christina Williamson
- Aim: Fostering the exchange of approaches and experiences in archaeological surveys

Proposed programme

Friday, March 22nd

- | | |
|---|--|
| 09:00 Bernhard Ludwig | Introduction “Good Practice in Mediterranean Survey” |
| 09:30 Felix Pirson – Güler Ateş | Surveys in Pergamon 2006-2017 |
| 10:15 Coffee Brake | |
| 10:45 Elif Koparal | Survey Çeşme Peninsula |
| 11:30 Anja Slawisch - Néhémie Strupler - Toby Wilkinson | Survey Panormos |
| 12: 15 Lunch Brake | |
| 13:15 Jeroen Poblome | Survey Sagalassos |
| 14:00 Christina Williamson | Survey and GIS |
| 14:45 Coffee Brake | |
| 15:15 Daniel Knitter – Bernhard Ludwig | Spatial Analyses and Project TransPergMikro |
| 16:00 End 1 st Day | |
| Each lecture max. 30 min, 15min discussion | |

Ca. 18:00 Evening Lecture by Jeroen Poblome at Mimar Sinan Üniversitesi

Saturday, March 23rd

10:00 – 12:00 General discussion on the goals and the methodology of archaeological surveys (in Turkey)

Exemplary topics:

- Goals, such as: reconstruction of territories, settlement structures, environmental scenarios, visual landscapes, resources, land-use, military and religious topography, economic and ecological interdependencies etc.
- Differentiation between extensive and intensive surveys
- Methodology of extensive and intensive surveys
- Methodology: the role of remote sensing, GPS, digital documentation methods
- The potential of (predictive) modelling
- Dating methodology in surveys
- Landscape surveys and public archaeology
- Data access and exchange as basis for joint evaluation and comparison between various projects